E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public It is unrivalled for its simplicity durability and the rapidity and ease of its action Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from ten to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting with proper care for ten years The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.

It having a tight cover the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to old housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California and receives the unfeigned commendation of all who have used it

Notes by the Way

P M S Co's STEAMER PANAMA,
August 24th, 1867

EDITOR OREGONIAN

On August 6th Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and sixty seven, after living in your State fifteen years, before going on board of the steamer Orizimme for a trip to San Francisco and thence to the Atlantic States, I made several calls in your town to say good bye—good bye to some dear friends and a lady said to me that she did not like the word, but what word shall we use, unless we adopt the one used by the Quakers? Adieu Is this bottering the matter any? But forgetting, for a while the kind and loved ones left behind, years of pleasure, toil and hardship, is it not with pleasant anticipations that we can look forward to the meeting of parents brothers and sisters whom we hope to meet around the paternal hearth Yes but with joy comes also the memory of those little ones and of the partner of our joys, "resting from their labors and their works do follow them" We cherish, we cannot and wish not to forget them They are our jewels set in memory's casket, to be prized for their real worth I did not think the word good bye used in the first part of this, my first letter, would lead me into such a train of reflections, and, with the permission of your readers, will give you some jottings by the way We left Portland August 6th at 7 30 P M, on the O M and Cal S Co's Steamer Orizimme, Capt Conner; arrived in Astoria at 5 30 next morning Here we met with many friends who seemed to be enjoying themselves, as you would say, muchly The morning air was bracing, the sky clear—just such a morning as would make every one fall in love with each other, nature, the town, every body, everything, and the "rest of mankind" After chatting with friends, making a call, etc, I took a stroll upon the high bluff to get a fair view of the town and bay It is certainly a beautiful sight,—but what of Astoria's future? That it has a future I do not doubt Who could doubt it but a Portlander? The Astorian believes in Astoria, there is no other such place anywhere, so healthy, such a site for a town Again, your attention is arrested by the very large number of salmon barrels covering the wharf, piled up in the ware house, and all to be shipped to California by this steamer! Can it be possible that such a trade had sprang up in this ancient town? The evidence is too plain to be doubted longer Finding out that sixty tons of the best salmon in the world was to be taken on, and that we would not get off before eleven A M, I went with many other passengers and got a good breakfast on shore I understood that our friend Judge O made a very good thing out of the lottery sale (excuse me, Judge), as I was informed that the total bona fide sale amounted to the snug sum of twelve thousand dollars This sum would be a handsome amount to put into one's pocket But how satisfactory to the Judge, when he remembers the pocket well filled; but more particularly so, when he remembers that every man who bought a lot for $50, got the value of $100 How liberal, to thus give every purchaser one hundred dollars! But to be serious—how about the morality of the proceeding? Everybody got something, so it is no lottery That is the legal view—may be? But how about the moral question? That's the rub I have my own theory, but I will leave that part to the editor of the Advocate saying only that I agree with him, only a little more so

The ship's gun fires for the passengers to be on board, so we will leave Astoria, its good people, narrow streets, and steep sloping sides, its commerce and salmon fisheries hoping that the bright anticipations of the future will not be obscured in the least

In passing out of the river we had a fine view of the fortifications on the left and on the Cape The Bar was so smooth that we could hardly tell when on it, or over it. To the right we see a full rigged barque, with all sail set, coming in over the Bar It is a pleasant sight to see A little farther on is the pilot boat, making towards us, and the pilot says to the man at the wheel, "Make for the pilot boat" Small boat comes along side, the pilot bids the capt in "Good bye," runs down the rope at the ship's side, and away they go; the captains take command taking the course for San Francisco I do not propose to entertain the readers of your paper by expatiating upon all the qualities, comforts and discomforts of the ship Orizimme, nor extol our captain above all the men of our time, because he did not run the ship in shore, nor toast the coal heavers in barrels, nor make himself disagreeable to all on board by showing a little brief authority, but because merely to commend him for the discipline of the ship, and for the care he takes of his passengers I shall say, however, that he seemed a little cross grained sort of a man, If this don't look well, why, just tell the printer to set it in very small type

Among the passengers are two old residents of Portland homeward bound to the States, others from Salem and other interior towns of your State I might say en passant that the two gentlemen from S, our friends, conducted themselves with much propriety

I had might be pleasant for them to be reminded that they paid great deference to the ocean, and seemed greatly pleased that they were not swallowed up bodily, instead of being called upon to pay tribute to the God Neptune

As they are generally known in Oregon, I felt anxious to find out their business in California, but did not feel like questioning them too closely, but came to the conclusion from the remarks unwittingly thrown out, that they thought of buying all of the ole in California mostly on speculation, saving a little, it may be, for home consumption I commend their judgment, and hope to hear that the speculation may prove remunerative I am always glad to hear of the prosperity of the citizens of the web foot country I must pass by what was worth remembering, of the voyage, except perhaps, how that a certain runner for a California house addressed a letter while in Idaho, to the wife of an United States officer, asking to have a walk with her, and how the true wife handed the letter to the husband, who met the young spring with a raw hide and used it till he could use it no longer This took place at Boise City, Idaho Territory If this elegantly dressed, flowing mustached dandy of a runner did anything which did not suit the people of that latitude or even the good people of the Dalles as he was on his way down all that was necessary to quiet his spirit was to remind him of the dressing he had received—I mean old fashioned whipping, for as the style of his dress at was every way in the height of fashion His coat seemed to be one piece of cloth the bottom gored like a lady's habit I need not say it set beautifully, and would have given a fine chance to the man with a rawhide, had not that irate individual preferred the bare back If I had not had this piece of gossip from gentlemen of the highest respectability I would not have mentioned it to your readers Gentlemen do not always turn out well, it seems when away from their mammas

The San Francisco merchant, dealer in fish hooks, who went to the expense of having this young man clothed and shaved will do well to select some one of intelligence and respectability next time, if he wishes to make a good impression in Boise City

As the P S S Co's steamer Constitution was to sail on August 10th at 11 A M we had but little time to look about the city of San Francisco, and note the many improvements just completed and now in progress I have no time to give an accurate description of even a few of the most beautiful and costly buildings No one could fail to notice the splendid structure erected for the Bank of California corner of California and Sansome streets It is built of cut sand stone, and is, I think, three stories high, with a basement, and is highly ornamented on the outside and finished without regard to cost But as I did not have time to take notes on the ground, I will not be particular as to the exact number of dollars expended, hoping that the local papers of San Francisco may give you the dimensions, cost, amount of stone used in its erection, with a full description of the inside finish—just step into the main banking room and note the twenty or thirty clerks all busy—some paying clerks others drawing drafts, etc Have you business with the bank, a draft you wish paid, just take your place in the line and wait your turn Well, here I am, with ten or more ahead of me, and in the ten minutes I am waiting to be served thousands of dollars are paid out At another desk clerks are busy taking account of the bullion being received for shipment to New York, Panama and London Cast your eye upon the floor and see the silver bricks lying around promiscuously as if of but little value I have no time for further description till my next

As we go up street over the way see the beautiful San Francisco Exchange, the equally beautiful building occupied by the Pacific Insurance Company Shall we pass around to the other side of the block and take a view of the new building being finished by the Mercantile Library Association? I would like to take you to their rooms, and introduce you to the gentlemanly Librarian He will show you round the different rooms and show you what of interest they contain I will leave the rooms for another letter

Well, then we must go and buy our tickets All we will have to do is to pay the price due a kind and take our ticket, as we had secured our room by telegraph For the benefit of those going East, I will give the rates of passage by the C I steamer The prices of tickets are as follows Upper saloon, outside $278 upper saloon, inside, $187, second cabin, $120, steerage, $60

AUGUST, 24, 1867

As we expect to reach Panama in two hours I must close this letter, so as to be ready to take the cars for Aspinwall I will say in regard to the health of the trip, that there is no sickness on board, and that we have had a very pleasant trip

The "Blow-out" at Dallas

A correspondent of the Unionist writing from Dallas gives the following account of the proceedings had at the late meeting of the unwashed and unterrified at that place:

The great Democratic meeting at which the Union party was to be destroyed in general and Senator Williams in particular, has come and gone The day was gloomy and rainy and a bad day for Copperheads and snakes About nine o'clock the Democrats came trailing into town, looking like whipped roosters all wet and bedraggled About 10 o clock Holmes (familiarly called Old Hoss), poked his head out of the window and commenced, "Oh yes! Oh yes!" which he continued at intervals for about half an hour He stated that the object of the meeting was to reply to Judge Williams's speech" Caton moved that a committee of seven be appointed on arrangements, carried Ben Hayden moved that Mr Semple of Portland, late of Kentucky, be invited to address the meeting during the absence of the committee, carried Accordingly Mr Semple took the stand and made the simplest speech I ever heard He said they must organize—each Democrat must take three of their newspapers, and circulate documents If they didn't carry the next Presidential election, they would fight for their liberties—[loud cheers]—the danger is not yet passed; we will not submit we will fight, I repeat [Loud cheers] The meeting then adjourned until 1 o'clock

After the adjournment Holmes called the meeting to order The committee reported and Ben Hayden, as per arrangement, came upon the stand and said he was going to reply to Judge Williams's lying speech A man kept tally, and he called Williams a liar forty times, with such as "infernal liar," "premeditated liar," "infernal treacherous liar," etc. He said, Senator Williams had been invited to attend the meeting, but he (Williams) was afraid to meet HIM! whew! He continued "All the officers that have been elected since 1861, would call their birth rights in a mess of pottage; were as corrupt as bilt Tuerie in Lafollet, I sicken to mention him, he said himself for a Captaincy" The old Captain read nothing, but enjoyed the show Hayden continued "The Methodist Church North are a lying subtle, hypocritical, political sect. Williams one secreted their church to treason villainy hypocrisy and negro equality I have no religion myself, and they have no more than I have and if Jesus Christ had come along when Williams was speaking, he would have applied his rough boots to him as he did to the Jews of old, and said 'I made my house a house of prayer, but you have made it a den of traitors'" [Loud cheering] He (Hayden) was in favor of repudiating the National debt, free trade and sailors rights, said all the acts of Congress since 1861 was unconstitutional The amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery, is unconstitutional and of no effect If they could not carry the election and get their rights at the ballot box, they would have them at the point of the bayonet [Loud cheering] Hayden spoke an hour and a half, and divided his time between abusing Williams and the M E Church And I am sorry to say that many members of the Methodist Church South were foremost in cheering his philippic against the Church.

Burnett, of Corvallis spoke about three quarters of an hour. About one third of the audience left the room when he arose to speak and there was continual confusion in the house He made no point worth noticing.

Judge Strong, of Portland, took the stand He was in favor of taxing the United States bonds or repudiation, but of the two he would repudiate That you could no more disgrace the United States by repudiation, than you could disgrace the chastity of a whore [Loud cheering] When the war was over we should have taken the rebels by the hand and said Well done, you did not disgrace your cause—and admit them into Congress without conditions The execution of the assassinators of Lincoln was a greater disgrace to the Government than the assassination He argued at some length to show that the first principle of the Democracy party was to get the offices, after which they would declare their principles Lecture I Democratic editors for quarreling with each other and not fighting Black Republicans "Strong's" speech

Revenue and Taxes.

That the country is still politically and financially disordered should create neither surprise nor despondency in the minds of any portion of our people. Quiet comes gradually after great commotions; it cannot be restored at once. Long after the tempest has spent its force the billows it raised will continue to roll. The country is making sure progress toward the restoration of quiet; for, in no event can political disorders and animosities be continued in their past intensity after the Presidential election. The success of the national cause in that struggle will defeat the last hope of the reactionists, and when they consent to submit to the inevitable, we shall have peace. Hereafter financial questions will largely engage the attention of our statesmen. The tone of the public press and the declarations of many of our leading men indicate a growing disposition among those whom the people have entrusted with the Government to make material changes in the revenue laws and to remove many of the burdens of taxation which are now so heavily felt. This country is as yet comparatively unskilled in the lessons of finance, and therefore it need excite no wonder that the sudden creation of an enormous debt threw burdens upon the people which their representatives illy knew how to meet. That our revenue system has so many faults is due to the country's limited experience in dealing with questions of this sort, and also that time has not yet been given to improve it in such a way as to meet the demands of so great a people possessing so varied an industry. During the war taxes were laid on to meet the pressing necessities of that crisis; and since the war, public sentiment has seemed to be divided as to whether high taxation with a view of speedily extinguishing the debt, had better be continued, or whether we should simply content ourselves with paying the interest and wait for the increase of wealth and more prosperous times to discharge the bulk of the debt. The former policy has been tried for two years, and in that time the debt has been reduced two hundred and sixty-five millions of dollars, besides maintaining a very expensive Indian war. But we believe the policy of paying the debt at a less rapid rate would be more acceptable to the country generally. The people might then be relieved of a very material part of the present heavy taxation. It may be confidently expected that something will be done in this direction by Congress during the approaching session. We look for the taxes to be lightened, to be confined to fewer articles, and to be so arranged that while they will yield sufficient revenue to meet the demands of the Government, they will be much less sensibly felt than now. A policy of this kind would seem much wiser, as it certainly would be more satisfactory, than to continue the present rate of taxation with the design of discharging the whole debt in ten years.

A Creditable Act.

Much credit is due to Henry L. Hoyt, Marshal of this city, for the resolute and determined manner in which he has resisted and finally completely defeated the infamous combination which attempted to make the offices of the city party capital to be traded in and disposed of to secure party ends. We say this in simple justice to a capable officer, and we believe that all good citizens, without reference to party, will concur in it. Mr. Hoyt contested the case solely in the interest of the public and not for his own advantage; and now that he has succeeded in foiling the corrupt faction that dominates in the city, he proves his disinterestedness by taking the first opportunity to resign. When he first proposed to contest the case he was assailed with a storm of vituperation and threats; but conceiving it to be a duty he owed the public to try the right of these men to do a thing so manifestly contrary to every principle of honesty and every consideration of public policy, he adhered to his course and overthrew their projects. Had he not resolved to contest the case, we should now see one of our most responsible municipal offices filled by a man elected by his own vote under the appearance of an "arrangement" with others which might well excite suspicion and concern in the minds of all honest citizens; and further, we should now see this person, so elected, voting in the Council for his own pay and that of his subordinates, and continually using his power in one position for his advantage in the other. Had this plan succeeded, the opportunity which it would have offered for jobbery, for corruption, and for every manner of low, dirty work in office, might justly have alarmed the public. But the scheme has received its quietus; this channel of corruption has been closed by the strong dikes of the law. Thanks to the integrity of the Courts, this piece of Democratic swindling has met with a just rebuke. If the Republican party had done this thing, the act would have ruined it. But as Democracy has generally lived by corruption, so it has often thrived by it.

In its tirade against the Circuit and Supreme Courts of the State because they would not sanction the corrupt acts of the majority of the City Council, the "organ" says: "The victorious party had the power to begin with, and if any one expected a different result, we do not happen to know it." Of course it is "just as we expected." But on the 20th of last month, after Hoyt had made known his design of contesting Rosenheim's right to the office, the "organ" said: "The proposition to refer the matter to the Court is simply a ruse to defeat the ends of the law. A decision would of course be made against Hoyt." Yet now, when the corruptionists are utterly foiled, the sapient editor of the "organ" declares that he never expected any other result. This fully explains the outrageous course of the dominant majority in trying to carry their designs by intimidation and bluster. They knew that if they went into Court they would be defeated, for they were perfectly aware that no honest Judge would approve of such scoundrelly action.

Grant did not go with Johnson to witness the ceremonies at Antietam. The humiliated individual will probably never desire Grant's company again on a public excursion. The General is altogether too "Radical" to suit him. That letter on the removal of Sheridan, and numerous other acts of General Grant have about satisfied Johnson as to the great leader's position. When Johnson gets drunk on the 22d of February and makes his speech to the rebel and Copperhead crowd at Washington, he will probably denounce Grant as a traitor.

The party which boasts of its great reverence for law, and continually accuses its opponents of lawless acts, invariably assails and repudiates the decisions of the Courts, when those decisions are not in its own interest. Witness the action of the Herald in pouring out a column of billingsgate on the Supreme Court of Oregon because that tribunal would not render a partisan decision, contrary to law and to public policy.

The "organ," in speaking of the election of a certain person to a certain position by its party, asserts with great boldness and emphasis that it "cannot be shown that there was any corrupt consideration, bribery or fraud involved in his election." Perhaps it cannot. Men are not apt to reveal a thing that would convict them of an offense which is punished with exemplary severity.

This is Punch's last hit at the long skirts:

Hostess—"Oh, how tiresome! Somebody must be standing on my dress! Would you just run down stairs and see who it is, Mr. Brown?"

BOSTON, Sept 25.—The remains of Sir Frederick Bruce were sent to England by the steamer China.

Significant Letter from Senator Howard

CHICAGO, Sept 25.—The Detroit Tribune publishes a significant letter from Senator Howard, referring to what the Washington Intelligencer said; that Senators who express their convictions beforehand, shall not sit in judgment upon the President. Howard says it is generally understood that that paper is under the patronage and control of Johnson and his immediate advisers, and in view of the military preparations now going on in Maryland and other border States, such threats cannot be regarded as harmless. They originate in a purpose on Johnson's part to attempt violence upon Congress. They become deepened and intensified under the malignant influence of his private advisers. Howard says Congress will do its duty and rely upon the people to protect it. The assault of Congress by military violence would have a decidedly beneficial effect on the Government, as leading to the final conclusion of the suppression of the rebellion by the condign punishment of their tormentors.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 25.—News has arrived from Fort Klamath that Lieut. Small, 1st U. S. Cavalry, had found a band of Snake Indians near Lake Abert and made a successful fight with them. The band was led by Chockteosh and had defeated Gen. Crook's Indians a few days previous. After the first charge, the Indians made for the rules, but Small dismounted his men and fought them in water waist deep. Chockteosh and twenty or twenty-five of his warriors were killed, and fifteen taken prisoners and brought to Fort Klamath. None of the soldiers were hurt, and only one of the Indians attached to Small's command was wounded, having been shot in the arm with an arrow. One of the Snakes "played possum," but while being scalped by a Klamath, gave signs of life and was instantly shot through the head.

On the evening of the 22d, a Sergeant and a private of Lieut. Small's company had an altercation at the Fort, in which the latter was shot, and it is thought mortally wounded.

LETTER FROM BAKER COUNTY.

BAKER CITY, Sept. 22, 1867.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The farmers are now about through their harvesting in this valley, crops generally being lighter than those of last year. There will be, however, a large surplus of both oats and wheat in Baker county the present year, and as for hay, I have never seen a place on the coast that excels Powder River Valley in the production of wild grass. What is now acknowledged to be the best hay, is made from what is generally known as rye grass—carex vitchengis—which here grows to the height of five and six feet, and with which a large portion of the valley is thickly coated. The experiments of agriculturists have demonstrated here that wherever rye grass grows, wheat and oats will grow equally well, as do also potatoes, turnips, etc. The berry of the wheat raised in this valley, however, is not so large and plump as that grown in the Willamette, whether from the variety grown, or want of adaptation to the climate, I am unable to say. Strange, is it not, that though few doubt but that the hardy fruits, such as apples, pears, plums, etc., would flourish here, there is not an orchard nor scarcely a shrub planted out in this valley!

The mines in this county have probably produced as well as any previous summer, though from present appearances the mining season will close earlier than usual. Rye Valley camp has been perhaps, the most productive of any other this year.

Quite an excitement prevails just now, over the fact that those desperadoes who robbed the Frenchmen near Rye Valley a few weeks ago, escaped from jail at Auburn, on the night of the 20th inst.

In order for your readers to understand their mode of egress, it will be necessary for me to describe the Auburn jail somewhat particularly: It is fashioned unlike any other such building that I have ever seen, though I do not wish to be understood as being very familiar with the interior of such structures. A square log house, two stories high, the lower being the one used for confining prisoners, and the upper being used as a sleeping apartment for guards; the prisoners, as also their meat, drink, fuel, etc., being let down by a ladder through a trap door from above.

The prisoners chose a time when but one of the guards was on watch, and calling for some water they caught and dragged the guard down into the lower story, while he was in the act of reaching them down the water and telling him not to "cheep," on pain of instant death, escaped up the ladder, through the trap door, and taking the arms of the guards, escaped to the mountains. Two of their number have made their appearance on two occasions since their escape, in order to secure food for themselves, approaching with "arms presented" and demanding what they wished. They are thought to be still lurking around the vicinity of Auburn, and as the citizens are very much excited, I should advise said "road agents" to not allow themselves to be discovered.

Our Indian neighbors have been quiet for two months past, owing doubtless, to the fact that the "boys in blue" are becoming quite numerous through the country, and are working as though they mean to accomplish something. I hope from present appearances that this country will henceforth be troubled no more with Indian visitors. OCCASIONAL.

FROM OWYHEE.

The Avalanche of the 21st, has the following:

The last clean-up of the Morning Star mill amounted to $8,500. Seventy tons of ore were crused, and much of it was of a very poor quality, coming out of parts of the mine where its removal was necessary to make improvements.

Capt. Prescott and party are very much elated with the prospect of their lodge, called the Cloud, which we spoke of some time since as being discovered at Cottonwood, between Flint and this place. At the present depth of working, they inform us that the rich "pay streak" is eighteen inches wide, and judging from the samples of ore shown us, it certainly bears evidence of being one of the good things of this camp.

E. P. Benjamin, of St. Louis, Mo., has proved himself to be a contracting bilk. He was awarded the contract for carrying the mails from Silver City to Chico, Jol., and from Silver City to Jacksonville, Oregon. The service as per contract should have commenced July 1st, of this year, but he utterly failed, and Postmaster Clemmons has been notified that inasmuch as the contractor failed to comply with his obligations, no service will be performed on those routes until further notice—which means no mails at all on those routes.

The "organ" characterizes the decision of the Courts in the Rosenheim case and the defeat of the dirty schemes of its party for putting up valuable offices to be bought and sold to subserve partisan interests, as a "Radical triumph." A "Radical triumph," then, is defined to be a triumph for law, honesty, decency, public order and good government. These are results never yet secured by a Democratic triumph.

FROM PUGET SOUND.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Sept 24th, 1867.

It was a busy little town here last week. The masses hold a grand convalave, which brought many visitors from all parts of the Sound, besides there were quite a number of strangers from abroad. We noticed the arrival of Mr. Brooks, postal agent, who is looking after the mail affairs along the Sound. As you are aware, Mr. Brooks has changed the connection of the boats and stages at Monticello, so that the people at this place will receive their mails in two days from Portland, instead of three, and giving the people down the Sound five days' advantage with much of their mail matter. The people feel grateful and give him all due credit.

The curtain has fallen in another act of the Great Moral Tragedy, the Wilson divorce case. Mrs. Wilson has been denied her petition for a divorce by the court. The trial lasted several days, the examination being long, the lawyers as lengthy, while Judge Wyche was two hours in delivering his opinion. It is all over now, the acting performed, the audience gone, and the lights out. Let nothing but the moral be remembered.

A petition for a second grand jury was circulated at Port Townsend, in the case of Tripp and Keys, and granted by Judge Darwin, which jury found a true bill against them for murder.

☞The Message learns that correspondence has taken place between Capt. S. S. Fowler and Gen. Williams, of the Department at Washington, in regard to the purchase of Point Wilson by the United States, for the purpose of building a fortification upon it. The brig Faunsleroy has been engaged in surveying the point.

FROM IDAHO.

The following items are from the World of the 21st inst.:

From Mr. Van Wyck, of the Bonaparte Hill Mining Company, in Alturas county, we learn that an old man named Rinehart, was shot dead by his mining partner, Bernard Grassen, with a double-barrelled shot gun. The parties had quarrelled over mining matters. Their claim is on Bonaparte Hill, near the Company's lodge and mill. Grassen is well known here and in Boise City, and represented Alturas in the Territorial Legislalature of 1865-6.

We have been shown several specimens of ore taken from the Archer lodge, in the Banner District, which have passed through the roasting process, in order to better display their richness in silver. We also have other specimens of the ore from the same lodge in the pure state. Each of them are certainly valuable enough to warrant the owners of the lodge in the belief that they have a fortune before them.

Another rich and extensive ledge has been discovered on Summit Flat, beyond Pioneer City, close by the noted rich Mammoth ledge. The discovery was made by Peter Peterson and Otto W. Weise, and a company has been formed, consisting of Messrs. D. P. Macartee, Chas. J. Bernstiel, Peter Peterson, Otto W. Weise and Wm. Fagan, who have taken up 1,250 feet of the ledge under the name of the European Ledge Company.

A fearful pun is perpetrated by the New York Express in the following terms: "The coopers of Minneapolis, Minnesota, are on a strike. They ought to form a cooperative society."

MATRIMONY IS THE BLISS OF LIFE, and those who may doubt it should not fail to try it, but before attempting it should be certain to buy a thorough outfit, ladies as well as Gents, which is to be found at KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—The whole number of deaths of yellow fever were 1,214 up to Saturday. The deaths average about 70 daily now.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A dispatch from Key West says the yellow fever at Dry Tortugas has assumed a more malignant form. It is estimated that one-tenth of the entire number have died.

Indian War.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Taylor, Commissioner of Indian affairs, telegraphs that the Council at North Platte was briefly satisfactory and propose of peace are flattering. The Apaches, Arapahoes, Kiowas, Sioux, Comanches and friendly Cheyennes are willing, if the other Cheyennes don't want peace, to subjugate them, if Government will furnish powder, etc.

South America.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—News from Venezuela to the 18th, received via Havana, says Gen. Tocon had arrived at the capital. The new Foreign Minister, Senor Jacinto Justiz, had arrived at Bogota on the 4th inst.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

FLORENCE, Sept. 23.—Garibaldi was arrested by the Italian Government while crossing the Roman frontier. Many arrests were made at Rome of parties suspected of aiding in correspondence with Garibaldi. The Roman Government is taking steps to guard against any attack on without or sudden rising within the city, all Pontifical troops being concentrated at Rome. The Italian Government is sending troops to the Roman frontier.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Troops have left France for Rome.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—In the North German Parliament during the debate on the King of Prussia's address, Bismarck declared in a most emphatic manner that if the German nation rallied to unite, there is no power strong enough to hinder their union, and there is no power patriotic enough to make the attempt. The North German Gazette, Bismarck's reported organ, says the South German States are now free to join the Confederation of the north, and make Germany one nation.

WOMEN SHOULD READ THE NEWSPAPERS.—As a general rule, women read but little beyond stories and fashion articles, in the magazines. A few read poetry, when they can find that which is sentimental enough. There are exceptions among them—women who bravely attack books, of history, of science, material and metaphysical, books which most men find too heavy, but these are rare indeed, and the world affects to be glad that it is so. In the present organization of society, it is not practicable, certainly, and perhaps not desirable, that all women should be students or even readers of scientific and abstruse books. Men, as a rule, do not like learned women; but they do like intelligent women. Women should, therefore, for their own sakes, seek to become informed in relation to current matters of the world—those living events about which people are interested, about which they are thinking and talking. Of newspapers, as the means by which women may gain culture and that sort of intelligence which men most like in them, a modern author says: "Let me especially urge the reading of the newspapers as a distinct means of self-culture upon women. It may sound strange at first, but I think it is more important to women than to men, for this reason: Men are pretty sure to be kept up to the level of what is passing in the world whether they read the paper or not, but it is not so with women. Men go out into the world from day to day, they can hardly help hear what is going on. If they do not get the paper itself, they get a glance at the contents' bill as they pass the new shops, or they catch it up from the passing conversation of the day. But women, in their household life, may go on for weeks, hardly hearing a word of what is passing in the great world, and the life they do hear, conveying no living meaning to them. I think it a great evil. It not only narrows the range of woman's life, but she loses a great deal of happiness which would come of intellectual companionship and community of interest with man, with a brother, a father, or a husband. You know at present, when women do get hold of a newspaper, it is often the last thing they look at is that which has most interest for men. Politics they mostly vote as a nuisance, and don't try even to understand it; and the foreign intelligence might as well be printed in Greek. I want to see that altered. I would have every woman read the newspaper for herself, not merely for an hour's amusement, but with the definite object of escaping the natural danger of her quiet home life, and keeping an open eye and understanding mind for the passing history of nations, and the great interests which are striking the heart of the world."

THE RACES AT HILLSBORO.—Mr. Welch favors us through Jamison's Express, with an account of the great race at Hillsboro yesterday: The race was between two trotters, both from Portland—sorrel horse "Attila," and roan mare "Nellie"—mile heats, three best in five and was splendidly contested. Mr. Welch thus describes it:

1st Heat—Both animals broke on the start, sorrel ahead for the 1st qr. On the 2d qr Nellie retrieved the loss, and keeping it to the commencement of the home stretch, when Attila took the lead to the pules, winning by a length, in 2:48. Betting in favor of the sorrel, one native offering 3 to 1 on him.

2d Heat—Came to the scratch neck and neck; 1st qr, sorrel gaining; 2d qr, roan ahead, keeping it through the 3d; sorrel breaking badly, and losing the heat by a length. Time, 2:45

3d Heat—The roan mare ahead at the scratch, gaining on the first qr, and keeping it through the third, in which the sorrel broke, but came up neck and neck with Nellie who broke before coming on the home-stretch, but lapped up on the sorrel through the home-stretch, winning the heat by one full length in 2:46.

4th Heat—Barrel broke in the 1st qr., but on being brought down to work, gained through the 2d and 3d qrs, passing the mare on the home stretch; both breaking badly, but the horse winning by a couple of lengths in 2:51.

5th and last Heat—Started neck and neck; 1st qr., sorrel gained a length, but lost it in the 2d; 3d qr., the mare took the lead, winning the race in 2:53, by 12 feet; so decided by the patrol judges, on account of the breaks made during the race. To-morrow at 2 o'clock a race between Atkin's horse "Portland," Dorbin's "Richmond" and Baskett's "Jeff Davis," running, three best in five, mile heats.

PASSENGERS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Sierra Nevada, Wm. Metzger, Commander, sailed at 4 o'clock P M., yesterday for San Francisco, with the following list of passengers: Hon Geo H Williams and wife, G Smith, S Cahalin, E B Payne, G D Adams, G L Fay, Mrs Sarah Stratton, E Hoyt and sister, H Bird, B Rheinhart, M D Ballard, H Goldberg, R Jacobs, G A Mears, J Campbell, Mrs S Abell and 2 children, Mrs C Quinny, Maj J H Odell, U S A, Capt W A Mayre, U S A, Gen W H French, U S A, W T Ballou, Pierce, Geo Abernethy, Esq, Mrs W J Kelly, 2 McNamara, Miss Ann Abernethy, Mrs G H Bremer and 2 children, Mrs C L Jewett, J Masson and wife, R C Smith, A K P Kain, L Dunlap, J H Laughlin, D Leedy, S Harman, P Baltimore, Mrs Kierney and 3 children, J W Harrington, Mrs Stewart, Mrs N Elliott, Dr J F Bryant, P Lord, A Spaak and wife, Jacob Fry, A Bega, Mrs E Markham, Mrs Halpin, Mrs Ann Jack, Mrs Jane Howe, Louisa Blum, Dr L F Reynolds, Ah Low and 85 in the steerage. Six passengers who came down on the Oswego, arriving after the Sierra Nevada had cast off from the dock, were put on board by a small boat from the Crosby.

SUPREME COURT.—From the Record we have the following list of things of the Supreme Court on Wednesday, Sept. 25th:

M. B. Burk, appellant, vs. R. Olcott, respondent. Judgment affirmed.

Nancy Kent, appellant, vs. Jno. T. Brown et al, respondents. Motion for rehearing overruled.

A. B. Richardson, appellant, vs. L. C. Fuller & Co. and H. Martin & Co., respondents. Motion for leave to annul judgment by confession overruled.

State of Oregon, respondent, vs. Joseph Howard, appellant. Judgment affirmed.

The court then adjourned sine die.

The Record, in another place says: "The Supreme Court holds, in the case of the O. S. N. Co. vs. Wasco County, wherein the County Court had raised the assessment of that Company, that the court has no such power. That the tax roll having been returned to the County Court by the Assessor, that court has no power to increase any item. The action of the assessor seems final as to valuing the value of property."

FREIGHT FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Sierra Nevada took the following freights, yesterday, for San Francisco: 9,771 sks flour, 40 sks oats, 121 sks wheat, 2 sks flax seed, 3 sks feathers, 64 sks potatoes, 25 cans miles, 11 pkgs mdse, 18 bales mdse, 1 bale furs, 17 bales wool, 21 bbls beef, 2 bbls ale, 3 bbls lard, 21 half bbls do, 174 half bbls salmon, 40 bbls salmon, 13 half bbls butter, 194 half bbls dried fruit, 19 half bbls eggs, 105 boxes do, 171 cases bacon, 55 gunnies do, 7 rolls leather, 318 boxes fruit, 84 iron axle arms, 3 plates steel, 976 bundles staves, 9 coops fowls.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—On Wednesday the steamer Senator, brought down from Oregon City, 5,860 qr sks flour, 9 cases woolen goods, 7 boxes eggs, 15 sks fruit, 16 boxes mdse, 2 half bbls dried apples, 1 sk bacon, and 3 rolls leather. The greater part of the above was shipped per steamer Sierra Nevada. Yesterday the Senator brought down 1,105 qr sks flour, 127 sks oats, 75 gunnies do, 131 sks barley, 120 boxes apples, 10 boxes eggs, 27 half bbls lard and butter, 90 bags wheat, 13 gunnies bacon, 11 sks dried fruit, 1 bale skins, and 1 coop turkeys.

OFF FOR MEXICO.—Our friend J. W. Clawson, late Lieutenant in the Washington Territory Infantry Volunteers, took his departure, yesterday, by the Sierra Nevada, for San Francisco and thence to Mexico, where he has an important interest in a silver mine. During the late troubles in Mexico, work in the mine was suspended, but now that quiet is comparatively restored, the owners, Americans, propose to resume operations. Mr. Clawson, since leaving the military service, has been engaged in the Oregon Iron Works in this city.

PERSONAL.—Walter Bros. are now removing their goods to their new store, No 69 Front street, formerly occupied by Messrs. Cohen, Lyon & Kaufman. The large room has been nicely fitted up and so arranged as to better display their extensive stock of carpets, paper hangings, oil cloths, curtains, cornices, gilt mouldings and upholstery goods. Being direct importers, Walter Bros. can doubtless offer much better bargains than most dealers in their line.

TREASURE SHIPMENT.—The amounts of treasure shipped yesterday for San Francisco, by the Sierra Nevada, were as follows:

Wells, Fargo & Co.....	$77,000
Ladd & Tilton.....	43,000
Goldsmith Bros.....	20,000
Total.....	$140,000

"WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI."—This is the title of A. B. Richardson's new book, a copy of which has just been received at the Portland Library. The book is simply a compilation of his letters to the New York Tribune, with some additional notes. It contains an engraved picture of Portland, from a photograph taken on the 4th of July, 1865. The book is an interesting one, in Richardson's peculiar racy style.

OSWEGO IRON.—The Sacramento Union's San Francisco Market Review of the 12th inst. says of Oswego pig iron: "A sample of excellent quality has been received from the iron works in Oregon." In about two months, this product will be called in the California papers, "Pacific coast iron," and in about two months more, will be called "California iron"—such is California shock and appropriativeness.

MINERS.—The steamer Cascade arrived at 4 P. M. yesterday, with about 75 passengers, nearly all of whom were miners, coming down to spend the winter, either here or in California. There were several Ah Soos and Hang Lows, who tried hard to get on board the Sierra Nevada, but failed in connect. They may wait the next steamer, and meantime have a talk with Josh.

IMMIGRANTS.—Two or three families arrived at this city yesterday, having crossed the plains this season from Iowa. They took the route on the east side of the Blue Mountains and via Helena, Montana, for the purpose of avoiding the regions where Indian hostilities exist. We learn that they met with very few serious obstacles beyond the great length of the journey.

FREIGHT FOR PORT TOWNSEND.—The schooner Crosby sailed last evening for Port Townsend, W. T., with the following freight: 1,000 bricks 67 sks wheat, 350 sks middlings, 40 boxes apples, 3 half bbls sugar, 5 cases tinder, 350 qr sks flour, 72 sacks bacon, 25 oil cases, 1 keg and 6 sks dried apples.

BASE BALL.—The Spartan club of this city will start at 8 o'clock this morning, for Hillsboro where they are to play a match to day, with the Tiger club of Forest Grove. We hope to hear a good account to-morrow evening of our boys.

SALMON.—We are informed that the Sierra Nevada will stop at Astoria this morning to take on board 700 bbls salmon for the San Francisco market.

TREASURE RECEIPT.—Wells, Fargo & Co. received from the upper Columbia, yesterday, per steamer from the Dalles, $10,000 in treasure.

TOBACCO.—Speaking of tobacco, we have found Wasserman & Co's a good place to go to for it. The merits of the weed can find there any brand they want, from the black cavendish to the nephus ultra, "high-toned."

RECORDER'S COURT.—The only case in the Recorder's Court, yesterday, was that of Indian Lucy, alias Minnehaha, who was convicted of being drunk and disorderly, and given two days in the city jail.

BISHOPRIC TO ALASKA.—It is stated that Bishop Thompson, late the presiding officer of the M. E. Conference in this city, is on the way to Alaska to look after the interests of the church in that quarter.

HOG'EM MINES.—An acquaintance who arrived here, yesterday, from the Hog'em mining camp, represents that district as "about played out."

MARSHAL HOTT, after serving out faithfully his term of office as City Marshal, gave way honorably to any successor in office. Once a day let us call your attention to the large and cheap stock of Custom Made Clothing and Furnishing Goods for sale at Barman Bros. at Bargains, Bargains and Bargains!

ORIGIN OF THE WORD LADY.—It was the custom at the time of the Plantagenets, and previously, for ladies of distinction and wealth regularly to distribute money or food to the poor. The title of lady is derived from the Anglo Saxon, and literally signifies "giver of bread." The purse, with similar meaning, was named as a receptacle for alms, and not as an invention for the preservation of money.

FEW ARTICLES have become more popular than the STANDARD SOAP CO'N WASHING POWDER, which justly obtains favor wherever introduced. It is found equally effective with hard or soft water—and will wash your clothes in less time and with half the labor required with common soap or any other compound. Try it once, and half the dread of washing day will be removed.

We should not suffer from a Cough, which a few doses of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL will cure. Time, comfort, health, are all saved by it.
☞ We have but little confidence in the trumpet tongued statements of the proprietors of advertised medicines generally, but we are forced to concur in the opinion, uniformly expressed by all who have used FRATT DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, that it is a very valuable article, and one that it would be well for every household to have at hand, in case of bruises, scalds, burns, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera, fever and ague, and the host of diseases, external and internal, which it is adapted to cure or alleviate. No article of medicine ever attained to such unbounded popularity and extensive diffusion. It has penetrated to every part, even the most remote, of the known world, bearing with it its healing influences more potent than those of the spices of "Araby the blest." We are informed by our principal druggists, that they sell more of this article for exportation than any or all others, and that the demand is constantly increasing.—Salem Observer.

The Contest in Ohio

The election in Ohio will take place on the 8th of October General R. B Hayes is the Republican candidate for Governor, and Judge Thurman, a Copperhead of the Vallandigham stripe, the Democratic candidate Senator Wade lately delivered a speech at Marietta on the issues of the contest, in which he said

Is there a man within the hearing of my voice, who opposed Vallandigham in 1863, in that great controversy—is there a man so low, having refused to vote for the bold traitor, Vallandigham, will vote for the milder one, Thurman? As for me, I like a bold man better than a sneaking one God knows, if I had a choice to make, I would prefer the open traitor, Vallandigham, rather than the slimy, insidious traitor, Thurman Every aristocrat and despot in Europe was in harmony with Vallandigham, Thurman & Co. They were fearful that, through our success, the people of Europe would be emboldened to throw off the yoke of despotism What were those aristocrats doing all that time? The Confederacy was sending emissaries to enlist these despotisms in their behalf, and to invoke their assistance in overthrowing this Government There was Slidell, who went to France, and Mason, who went to England. They were backed by aristocrats everywhere, and were trying to get support to aid them in revolutionizing the glorious government in which we live. Can disgrace go further? Can man plunge himself into deeper degradation than he invokes a despotism abroad to come in and aid him in overthrowing the glorious principles of government we have inherited from our fathers? One word as to the tyranny they accuse us of having committed upon those seceded States—a tyranny, a frightful tyranny! Permit rebels to sit in the councils of this nation to-day, to legislate for the Government they were lately invoking the aid of foreign countries to destroy! Why, the man's a fool. But he is no bigger fool than Thurman, for that is his doctrine to-day. Did you ever hear such a thing? We are great tyrants in Congress We have dealt very harshly with these men—very! Well, how have we shrunk from the good old principles of Washington, who was not thought to be much of a radical He was a radical, though, and if he were alive to-day he would be as bad as I am In the days of General Washington, while he was President of the United States, Congress, taking into consideration the fact that rebels might arise at some period, passed upon that subject, and made it punishable by death and confiscation for any man to levy war against the Government of the United States Gen. Washington recommended that law; Congress passed it, and General Washington signed it; He was no man of shams Suppose that such a man as Jefferson Davis, or Toombs, or General Lee, or any of the rest of them, under the provisions of that law, had fallen under the jurisdiction of General Washington when he was President. How much would you have given for his chance? Not very much, I guess We know just what he would have done by what he did Gen. Arnold undertook to sell out and go over to the British Government. Maj. Andre, who had come into the United States to make the arrangement with Arnold, was caught. General Washington said to the British Government, "If you will deliver to me the traitor Arnold, I will surrender Major Andre unhurt to you. I want to get that devil of a traitor. I don't seek the blood of Andre; he is a foreigner and I don't want to execute him, so if you will surrender Arnold you can take Andre." That shows what Washington would have done with those men. What would he have done with Vallandigham? Vallandigham went as far in endeavoring to betray this nation as General Arnold ever went. That is to say, he did all that his devilish ability could find means of doing, to the cause of treason, and if he had fallen under the jurisdiction of Gen. Washington he and the whole accursed posse of the leaders of this rebellion would have lost their necks. It ought to have been done. I tell you when men commit the most flagrant crimes known to the law, and the law provides for their punishment, it is a weakness and a wickedness to spare them. How many have fallen because would not do it? A man may seem to act with humanity, but really, while he is dealing leniently with these devils who have done such mischief, he is doing a great injury to hundreds and thousands of others But, say Thurman and Vallandigham, you are creating a despotism over them, you won't let them into Congress to aid you in the administration of the Government. Did you ever hear such a plea as that before? Is it not a little marvelous that this nation has never visited the law upon the head of any traitor? Sir, the blood of hundreds—I was about to say millions—of young men, the flower of our youth, has been sacrificed to the rebellion, and I blush to say the retribution of the law is not being visited upon a single one of their heads until, from the present immunity they enjoy, treason begins to be respectable I fear and tremble for my country when I find that this most accursed treason has accumulated such a debt upon our shoulders, and cost us the lives of hundreds of thousands of our brave boys—that yet these accursed scoundrels who have done it all are the objects of sympathy from such men as Judge Thurman and Vallandigham.

AN ACCOMMODATING HUSBAND.—A Northern gentleman who has been for some time residing in Ferdinandina, Florida, in speaking of the ignorant whites of that section, tells the following amusing story

One day an elderly man, some seventy years of age, and a girl came into an office he was occupying with a justice of the peace, to be married. There being such a discrepancy in their ages, the gentleman was quite shocked, and felt it his duty to inquire into the matter He found it, however, all right, it being a regular love match After they were married, certificates made out, etc., he he said he tried to impress upon them the sacredness of the marital relations and vows, and laid particular stress upon the certificate as something tangible, and exhorted them to preserve that inviolate "till death did them part." Some months after, he says, walking to his office, he spied this old gentleman in the street with the inevitable sister, and seated in his cart alone. He could not resist the temptation of speaking to him. The old gentleman was pleased to see him, and at once told him that he was just going to his office to have his marriage certificate changed. "That gal," said he "the justice joined me to, has gone and joined herself to another man. I, remembering what you said about the stiffkit—how sacred it was, and all that, and I never lost it, and I was going over to see if you couldn't scratch out my name and put his in, and thus save him the damage."

FOR GIRLS WHO "CHEW GUM."—A great many American girls have acquired the particularly disagreeable habit of chewing gum. Perhaps they would like to know how gum is made:

The greatest gum manufacturing establishment is said to be at Podunk, Massachusetts, and the fame of their gum (and the gum itself) is in the mouth of all the world. One of the employes of that establishment, who has become thoroughly initiated into the mysteries of the manufacture of the gum, was recently discharged from the establishment, and has since divulged the process by which those quids, which young Americans masticate with such velocity and apparent satisfaction, are made. The gum is made of certain parts of gum arabic, gum tragacanth, a small quantity of resin, and fat. The fat used is not lard, that being too expensive, but it is a substance expressed from the dead hogs, cats, dogs and other animals found on the commons of the city. This is not the worst of it. After the various ingredients are melted in a huge kettle, a certain kind of alkali is put in for the purpose of whitening the gum This alkali is the same that is used by dyers with indigo to give a deep and permanent blue to flannels.

A CURIOUS CALCULATION.—An exchange says "What a noisy creature would a man be were his voice in proportion to his weight, as loud as that of a locust! A locust can be heard at the distance of one-sixteenth of a mile The golden wren is said to weigh but half an ounce, so that a middling sized man would weigh down not short of four thousand of them, and it must be strange if a golden wren would not outweigh four thousand of our locusts, and that the note of a locust can be heard one-sixteenth of a mile, a man of common dimensions, pretty sound in wind and limb, ought to be able to make himself heard at the distance of one thousand six hundred miles, and when he sneezed "in his house ought to fall about his ears!" Supposing a flea to weigh one grain, which is more than its actual weight, and to jump one and half yards, a common man of one hundred and fifty pounds, with jumping powers in proportion, could jump twelve thousand eight hundred miles, or about the distance from New York to Cochin China."

SOFT SOAP FOR ALL.—For a Lieutenant, call him a Captain; for a middle-aged lady, kiss her and say you mistook her for her daughter, for a young gentleman, rising fifteen, ask his opinion respecting the comparative merits of a razor; for young ladies, if you know their color to be natural accuse them of painting.

Some of the papers are calling Mr. Stanton the ex Secretary of War. The title is a misnomer. Mr. Stanton is still Secretary of War, and will continue to be until he is relieved of his duties "by and with the advice and consent of the Senate."

How they Live in Paris

[From Col Forney's Paris Letters]

The domestic life of France, and especially of Paris is so strange that you can compare it to nothing in England, much less in America I do not refer merely to the life of the producing classes, who are, at least for the present, content with their bread, vegetables and sour wine, savored as these are by endless public sports, but to those who occupy the middle walks, and even to families in the higher circles A house for one family, if not almost unknown in France, is confined to the wealthy, and is called 'a hotel" The very best society lives in apartments on one floor, including bed rooms, dining rooms, kitchen, &c., and of these floors there are never less than three, and frequently five, not counting the first story, where the 'concierge" or porter lives with his family, to watch and keep the place in order, collect the rents, and let in visitors. In the quarters where I am staying these establishments are generally new and neat, but elsewhere they are inconceivably old and foul. It is common for the family of the porter to live on the same level with the horses of the people up stairs, and so both higher and lower occupants enjoy the same doubtful offluvia. When you ascend to the third or fourth flight you are amazed to find so much light and luxury over so much filth Yesterday I called to see a distinguished friend, who lives on a fourth floor, and before I found him, I had to pass through a damp yard, a foul stable, and to ring at least four bells, on as many landings, the "concierge," or porteress, having directed me in unintelligible French from a little hole through the cell of a room in which she sat like the keeper of a nunnery. As the several occupants of these penitentiaries almost never know each other, you can imagine the social advantages of the system, not only in the aspect that protects all sorts of vice, but in that which makes human being utterly strange and callous to each other's miseries or sufferings.

In our country and in England it often happens that people who live in the same street are not acquainted with each other. Think, however, of living in the same house for years and knowing no more of the lodger above or below you than if he lived on another planet. But if all this is true of the wealthier classes, the evil is worse as you descend into what are called the lower walks of life The population of Paris is largely over two millions, and you have only to pass along the boulevards or great avennos at night, or to glance into the gardens or cafes, to realise that most of this mass of humanity lives on the streets rather than at home, and also that when forced to seek shelter it is under circumstances utterly destructive of all morals, if not of all comfort and health.

RESCUE OF A PACIFIC RAILROAD TRAIN FROM INDIANS.—The recent disaster on the Union Pacific Railroad, in which a freight train was thrown from the track and seven of the company employes shot and killed by the Indians, occurred about six miles west of Plum Creek station and 238 miles west of Omaha. Following the wrecked train was another, which left the station only ten minutes later, and which was saved from destruction by the prudence and courage of conductor Kinney of the former. The New York Tribune correspondent tells the story:

The conductor, who was in the caboose at the time of the disaster, saw dark forms rising from the ground, and rightly conjectured that this accident was caused by the Indians. He quietly jumped down, after securing a red flag, and ran with all speed backward along the track to meet the train whose reflector was soon glaring brightly like a star above the dark horizon The yells of the Indians sounded shrill and savage to the lonely man running for life, who was ever anxiously looking behind. Alone on the great prairie, a carnival of blood held a few short paces behind by the merciless Indians, while ahead beamed brighter the star of hope. Onward he sped, gasping for breath, the blood almost rushing from his parched lips and dilated nostrils. Nearer and nearer sounded the loud thunder of the relief. What a joyful sound to the pursued! Almost unable to stand he staggered like a drunken man on the track and allowed the rays of the powerful reflector to fall upon him while he energetically raised his flag. The engineer of the train happily saw him, and immediately whistled "down brakes." Kinney hastened to the engineer, a short conversation took place, and the train returned with all speed to Plum Creek. As soon as the men in charge of the train had been dispatched, fire was taken from the engine and set to the wreck. As the last train was retreating the men on board witnessed a scene of unrivalled sublimity and weird solemnity. The flames leaped up from the wreck in spiral columns, lighting the prairie around for miles. Now and then, as a stong puff of wind came from the westward, the flames were sent in one surging mass forward, as if eager to complete at once the destruction of the cars and their contents. Around the huge bonfires the fantastic forms of the Indians were dancing and yelling in the hellish delight of savages when victorious, Their voices were heard clearly as they chanted the war saga of the tribe, rendering thanksgiving to the great Manitou, for the victory over the pale faces.

FROM JULESBURG AND CHEYENNE.—We yesterday received a call from Frank Ainsworth, of the Frontier Index, lately employed in the Herald Job Rooms.

Mr. Ainsworth left Cheyenne one week ago. There were then over five hundred residents in Cheyenne, and a floating population of an additional five hundred The town is beautifully located at the foot of, the celebrated Black Hills and on Crow Creek. He is confident that Cheyenne will be the largest city between the Missouri river and Salt Lake, as the Railroad Company's shops and large rolling mills, besides other manufactories, will be there located. Some few frame houses are already built, whilst a number of others, including a large hotel, is in process of construction, Most all the inhabitants are at present living in tents The railroad company is selling lots at from $200 to $1,000, but speculators have hold of considerable land and demand most exorbitant prices. A temporary government is already organized, and life and property is safe Coal and iron is in abundant supply, and lumber is cheaper than in Omaha. The soil along the creeks is very productive.

Julesburg has three thousand inhabitants, and there is a constant pouring in of strangers. Mayor Cook, late of this city, still presides over the municipal affairs. Until within the past few weeks, he thinks Julesburg the hardest place on the face of the globe, but things have now assumed a more orderly shape—the thieves, gamblers and harlots being gradually driven from the city The late election was carried by gamblers, simply by fraud—forty Mormons, at one haul, were brought down to the polls by gamblers, to vote their ticket. For this, and other reasons, the election was set aside, and the old officers retained.

All Government and private freight carried over the U.P. R R, is reshipped at Julesburg, the Government has very large warehouses and acres upon acres of freight covered with tarpaulins. Business is very brisk.

Mr. Ainsworth believes that within two months (when the railroad is finished to Cheyenne) all the inhabitants at Julesburg will be at Cheyenne, the houses, being portable, will be taken with them. The Frontier Index will go with the crowd, as it is an institution on wheels —St Jo Herald.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—The Virginia (Nev.) Treipeak, 15th inst, gives the following details of a horrible accident:

Some time last evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock, James Fitzgerald, engineer at the Ophir Hill, in this city, met his death in the following manner, as we glean from evidence adduced before a coroner's inquest, held this forenoon by Coroner Caleb Gartrel. About 7½ o'clock the men employed in the amalgamating department noticed that the speed of the machinery was decreasing rapidly, and some of them went down to the engine room to ascertain the cause. They found the room untenanted, and made search for the engineer Some pieces of bone and flesh were found on the floor of the room, and after the engine was stopped the body of Fitzgerald was found in the fly wheel pit with life extinct. An examination of the body showed it to be horribly mangled, nearly every bone being broken, and the whole face and head so torn and bruised as to be unrecognizable In fact, the fragments were picked up in a dish, a mass of flesh and bones The deceased undoubtedly met his death by being caught in the flywheel of the engine, while going through a passage close to the wheel, in order to procure some tallow It is very probable that in passing he slipped and fell against the wheel, which caught him and instantly dashed him around upon the beams and irons, causing him to be horribly mangled and instantaneous death to ensue The verdict of the jury was accidental death. He was a native of Ireland, about 45 years of age He leaves a wife and family in this city.

D. H Hill, a pardoned but unrepentant rebel, rolls up his eyes before the people of Atlanta, Georgia, clasps his hands and exclaims piously, "Oh, it is sad to see the Constitution trampled upon and the country destroyed to perpetuate a hellish dynasty" By "hellish dynasty" he means the rule of the loyal party, which whipped the traitors, honored the Constitution, and preserved the Union.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET,

San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of a standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering not a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until reason is gone, the sooner let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Uterine Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call, and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has existed, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co
